WOMEN IN HARVEST FIELDS

They Save Farmers of South Dakota From Heavy Loss and Can Hold Office.

Booth, S. D.—It is not generally known that women played an important part in the gathering of the vast crop of the prosperous South Dakota farmer, but it is a fact that a large part of the manual labor on the Bonhomme county farm was performed by women and girls.

When the farmer saw the vast fields of wheat and oats and the grain waving yellow and loaded with rich yielding heads, he was surprised to find sufficient help to garner in the grain. Men were scarce and many times could not be had at the best of wages. The alternative was to call on the women. They responded nobly and to see women and girls driving six horses hitched to a binder or header in this part of the state was no unusual sight. Those who could not be used as drivers worked as stationary men in the fields or other manual labor.

Among the Russians in this country, women did most of the work this year. They all went at their tasks with light hearts and the farmer smiled when he saw his fields reaped and the grain gathered in stacks or thrashed. There were no fancy dresses worn in the fields, nor were there any fancy dresses on the tables of these thrifty people. The women of these thrifty people, who were on the edges of the fields, nor did the farmers wear any uniforms. They did not even think of these things, for it was the gathering of the crops that they were intent on.

Women and girls, when they worked away from home, were paid as high as $2.50 a day, with their board. Farmers said that women and girls are preferable to men, as they can be trusted.

Women in this state are also playing a very important part in the handling of the state's affairs. There is no law that says a woman cannot hold office. In fact, several are now holding the office of county superintendent of schools. Other women have been filled with great honor by bright, pretty women. At the same time, the women of South Dakota make the very best wives to be found in the land.

POOR: STRIKES GOLD IN PIT

Assay Proves Ore to Be Worth $900 a Ton—Was Once a Gravel

Los Angeles, Cal.—From the owner of a gravel pit on a small piece of land, yielding a small income, the suddenly becomes the possessor of a paying gold mine in the transformation is the fortune of M. M. Robinson, of Tropic.

Near the intersection of Glendale avenue and Cypress street in the Bohemian house, situated on about two and one-half acres of land, A. A. Washburn, through the rear end and just beyond the wash the land runs into a low hill of decomposed red granite. The face of this hill has been blasted and a pit has been excavated, across the property teams have hauled hundreds of loads of gravel.

More money in the gravel business than the returns from the mill.

Suddenly the teams ceased coming to the little lot, and the work went out. The gravel pit was exhausted. The neighbors did not believe it, but accepted the truth and awaited developments.

Soon the story leaked out, and the report of the find that had opened a yellow pocket of pure gold was spread with wide-spread wonder.

The new mine owner was suspicious, but he was not a miser. He had made a strike he would say nothing.

JOYOUS DREAM SHATTERED

Kalamazoo, Mich., Girl Said Hubby Looked as If He'd Live to Be 150, So She Left.

Minneapolis, Ind.—The dream of wedded bliss of David Hogenboom, aged 37 years, of this place, who took as his bride Miss Clara Van Veldt, aged 35, of Kalamazoo, has been shattered since just two weeks of the honeymoon had passed.

Because her husband would not concede to her certain property and money Mrs. Hogenboom has returned to her home in Kalamazoo. When she married Hogenboom, she says, a prenuptial agreement was entered whereby Hogenboom assigned to the young bride much of his property. After the marriage had been performed she discovered that she could control none of the property until after the old man's demise and she consequently said that unless she would consent to renege on the agreement she would leave him. He had new papers drawn up and gave her $100, but she left for her home with the remark, it is alleged: "You look as if you would live to be 150 years old."

Deaf Mutes Are Experts.
Deaf mutes, their inferiority proving a help instead of a hindrance, have demonstrated that there is one kind of deafness, to which they are far more the ordinary artisan. A Chicago telegrapher made the discovery. It was found that the making of the delicate mechanism of the modern telephone, the deaf mute, by reason of the manual development incident to constant use of the sign language, is peculiarly adapted. The hundreds are now given employment in the factory at standard wages.

Fortune Smiles in Night Direction.
An Iowa man while cutting corn, unearthed a pot of gold. Let the youth who had been digging for the pot, when this bit of luck struck him, be called around a lively assemblage.

Love that lives on beauty alone will soon waste to death.

A woman from Marietta, Ohio, says: "Reports called at the home of William Clark, who died of diphtheria. The widow and ten children were gathered about the kitchen fire. When asked for particulars the widow took a pencil and paper and prepared the following note for the press:

"These do not say that the family deeply mourn for their father. He has been here for years and has been a father only in name. For affection given, only love and care have been received in return. It is better for him that he is dead and better for us that he is gone. The long illness has been a curse, not a blessing, and does not make us hypocrites by publishing that which is not true."

The United States Supreme Court has reversed the decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals in the case of the Union Refrigerator Transit Company vs. the Commonwealth of Kentucky. This decision concerns the taxation of the Kentucky Refrigerator Transit Company and its subsidiaries.

It is said the saloon keepers of Portsmouth, Ky., have signed an agreement to co-operate with the grand jury to prosecute all persons who violate the Sunday liquor law. If the saloon keepers are working along this line it is difficult to see how the Sunday liquor law could be violated.

One thing that Teddy's recent Southern trip did to discover the most beautiful woman in the South. Miss Selma Allen, the fairest flower in Atlanta's rosiest garden of girls. A beautiful girl whose eyes are like a mixture of blue eyes under dark lashes, a complexion of blended rose and porcelain, a head crowned with wild gold.

The Court of Appeals has refused Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick an appeal and she will have to serve the ten years in the penitentiary. How small she must look by the side of the Life Insurance President, none of whom have even been indicted.

A woman from Friday, Ohio, jumped on a small boy, Wednesday, killed him down and spurned him viciously in the neck. This thing of this girl is a disgrace to the name of Ohio.

Enormously Heavy Business.

THE past six weeks' record here has eclipsed all previous trading. In fact, the business was so great that we anticipated that it nearly depleted the magnificent stock we opened the season with. Our buyer went to New York two weeks ago to replenish the line, and these late purchases are just now beginning to arrive. The garments are, if anything, more fascinating than the early showing as new features are embodied here and there that render them more attractive. The following items of this recent purchase will be especially exhibited tomorrow, and merit your investigation.

Tailored Suits.

In Cheviots, Broadcloth and Mixtures, such pleasing shades as purple, murret, rose, green, red, brown, black, gray mixtures, etc., in extremely long coats, and black and white, bought within the last two weeks and right up to the moment in style.

New Waists.

This department contains some of the choicest waists ever created. Handsome novelty garments in white, black and evening shades, made of chiffon, taffeta lace, crepe de chene and net.

Cloth Coats.

A new lot of handsome new broadcloth, light weight kersey and fancy materials. The very essence of the new assortment of rain coats. Cost time is now here and the early buyers will find a selection of unusual elegance. A wonderful line of children's coats.

KAUFMAN, STRAUS and Company.

322-325 W. Main Lexington, Ky.

Don't Wait.

until it is too late to plant your BUTLERS. I can supply you with Hyacinth and Tulip bulbs. Make your purchases now before it is too late.

The Florist.

We are now showing an extremely pretty line of Winter Goods and Novelties. Our stock was never more complete and up to date. Our prices are as good as suit all classes. Our class of goods will suit the most fastidious.

White & Gibson.
